THE PUBLIC DEBT.

Attention is again drawn to the almost marvelous rapidity with which the national debt is being liquidated, by the fact that $10,000,000 of Government bonds will be redeemed this month. In 1791, or nine years after the close of the Revolutionary War, the public debt was $75,463,476; in 1815, just after the second war with Great Britain, it was $99,833,660—considered an enormous sum at that time; in 1848, at the conclusion of peace with Mexico, it was $47,044,862; in 1865, at the end of the Civil War, it was $2,680,647,869—a total increased the following year to the sum of $2,773,336,173, which indicates the high-water mark in the national indebtedness. At the present time the total is, as nearly as may be stated, $1,908,312,994, of which $445,399,170 does not bear interest. Here is a decrease in sixteen years of about $864,923,170, or more than 30 per cent. of the total—certainly an extraordinary exhibit. France owes, approximately, $3,972,407,000, and Great Britain about $3,870,221,000.

The enormous increase in the national wealth since the war accounts for the marked reduction in the public indebtedness. Mr. Mithall, the well-known statistician of the Royal Society of London, places the wealth of this country at about $49,770,000,000, or more than nine billions in excess of the wealth of Great Britain. It is noteworthy in this connection, says Frank Leslie's Illustrated newspaper, that during the last five years, our exports have exceeded our imports by a thousand millions, and that the immigration during that time has equalled the population of the third State in the Union, namely, Ohio, with her 3,198,000 souls. It is also significant that, whereas English investors at one time, not so many years ago, refused to pay more than thirty-five cents on a dollar for our bonds, paying six per cent., they now very readily bid 122½ for those paying only four per cent. and even take those paying but three and one-half per cent. at 105½. Times have indeed changed.

As late as 1869, the bonds of the United States were quoted at lower prices in the London market than those of Russia, Egypt, Chili, Brazil, or even the Argentine Republic; though, in the following year, there was a rise of thirteen per cent. in our securities. Some leading English journals, in 1870, thought it necessary to remind this country that to attempt to liquidate any portion of the national debt in greenbacks, instead of gold, would destroy American credit not only in Great Britain, but everywhere else. No such reminders are now considered necessary; it may be doubted if they were not at the time wholly superfluous.

The achievements of the past point, let us hope, to even greater progress in the future.

The ceremony of blessing the Imperial flag was performed yesterday in the presence of the Emperor, Empress, Imperial family, and the Emperor's military household. The Emperor and Empress drove from Alexander Palace to the Kremlin in an open carriage and without escort.

The Suez Canal Company announce that they propose to commence the cutting of a parallel canal across the Isthmus forthwith, and have applied to the English government for their support in obtaining the necessary concession of land from the Khedive.

Tired of waiting for Congressional appropriations, the Colorado Steamship Company has undertaken to clear the channel of that river so that their vessels can go up to a point 100 miles above Gallville, the present limit of navigation.

The Ogden Pilot has made an assignment of its property and plant, and the assignee offers the plant and good will for sale. It is almost as easy for a rich man to enter Heaven as to make a Gentle paper succeed in a Mormon town.

General Longstreet says Tilden is favorably spoken of for President, but Georgia people would prefer some man not yet mentioned. The people of Georgia have put aside politics and want Northern capital.

The President has gone to New York. It is not definitely known how long the President will remain in New York, but it is probable he will be there until after Decoration Day.

Next Sunday, May 27th, the Czar of all the Russias is to be crowned in the Kremlin at Moscow.

The Derby yesterday was won by St. Blaise; Highland Chief was second, and Gaillard third.

Killed by Joy.

Joy is said sometimes to kill outright, though such cases are extremely rare. A perfectly authentic and quite recent instance of such occurrence may be worth recording. A certain Mme. Larocque, who kept a little mercer's shop in the Rue Oberkampf, in Paris, had a son, who, when his turn came for conscription, unfortunately drew a "bad number," and had to go as a marine to Saigon, where he remained several months. He was then transferred to Guadeloupe; but the letter in which he announced the fact to his mother never reached her. She continued writing to Saigon, and as her letters received no reply she fell into a state of profound despair, and concluded that her son was dead. One evening, however, the young man having leave to return to France, unexpectedly presented himself in his mother's shop and threw himself into his mother's arms. The poor woman, stupefied at his sudden apparition, uttered a cry of joy, when all at once she reeled and fell dead to the floor.

Important Suits.

No greater question was brought before the United States Supreme Court during the year than that presented by the California tax case. This case raises the issue whether the power of the State to tax corporations within its jurisdiction is controlled by the fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution. The vast importance of the question becomes apparent when it is considered that its decision will affect all corporations except municipal in every State in the Union. Its difficulty may be inferred from the fact that though the case was argued several months ago, the Court has adjourned without giving its opinion.

A Good Showing.

Marous Mayer, advance agent of the Wyndham Company, gives the following interesting information in regard to Abby's receipts with his companies—Independent of his theater: Season 1880-81, Sarah Bernhardt, twenty-five weeks, $396,247; 1881-82, Edwin Booth, twenty-nine weeks, $280,648; Adeline Patti, twenty-two concerts and twelve operas, $236,890, season 1882-83, Christine Nilson, fifty-eight concerts, $208,685; Mrs. Langtry, twenty-six weeks, $236,216. Next season Mr. Abby has Mme. Nilson in grand opera and Henry Irving, and he expects to rival the Bernhardt receipts. It has been decided that the Jersey Lily will not visit the Pacific Coast until next year.

More Counterfeit Coin.

The Chief of the Secret Service Division of the United States Treasury reports that a new counterfeit five-dollar gold piece is in circulation. Its weight is 48½ grains light and is plated heavily. It purports to have been struck off at New Orleans in 1843, but differs from the original in many ways.

The Artesian Well.

The artesian well at White Plains has passed through the volcanic formation at a depth of 1,140 feet, and the total depth of the well is over 1,300 feet, the last 160 feet being clay and slate, with every prospect of success in obtaining water of good quality. The work is going on as usual night and day.

A Race Across the Ocean.

On March 12th last the steamer Istrian, of the Leyland line, started from Liverpool for Boston. Just an hour after she left the dock the Kansas, one of the Warren line, steamed out of the same harbor bound for the same destination. The two ships pursued courses so nearly identical that during the whole passage they never lost sight of each other. The weather was magnificent throughout the entire voyage, a slight fall of snow at one time being the only blemish. Early in the trip the Kansas overtook and passed her rival, then shortly after their positions were reversed, and soon, one ship forging ahead to-day, the other taking the lead to-morrow. Finally, after traversing 3,000 miles, the race ended by the Istrian reaching her dock in Charlestown at 1 o'clock p. m., on April 23, and the Kansas following suit at 2 o'clock in East Boston. Both officers and crews of the two steamers were interested in the race, which was a genuine one, and a similar case probably never occurred before.

It is rumored that President Arthur contemplates spending his summer vacation in California, and that he will, if his plans mature as now expected, arrive in the month of August. It is to be hoped that his present intention will not be abandoned. California will give the President a cordial greeting. But one President has ever visited the State. The hospitality extended to Mr. Hayes will even be more generous and marked in the case of President Arthur, since he will not come in the midst of a national campaign.—Carson Index.

Time and Expense Saved.

Hard workers are subject to bilious attacks which may end in dangerous illness. Parker's Ginger Tonic keeps the kidneys and liver active, and by preventing the attacks saves sickness, time and expense.—Detroit Press.

ARTS AND SCIENCES.

Waves of the Atlantic Ocean attain the various heights of 24, 32 and 43 feet; those of the Pacific are sometimes as much as 32 feet high; in the Mediterranean they are 14½ feet, and in the North Sea 13½ feet.

An interesting discovery has been made at St. Pierre de Quibignon, France. It consists of a new dolmen, one of those stone monuments of gray antiquity. It contained several entire human skeletons, besides a number of skulls, stone axes, a bronze pin, and some fragments of vessels.

Tincture of arnica is in general use as a lotion for bruises, but its value is greatly overestimated, and it is objectionable in that it sometimes acts as a powerful irritant. The following mixture used as a lotion is quite efficacious and no danger attends its use: Muric acid of ammonia, two drachms; vinegar, and water, of each two ounces; mix.

The question is now asked whether the increasing transfer of iron from the earth's interior to its surface can have any influence upon the weather. It seems at least possible the vast masses of iron that are being spread out in railways, bridges, etc., must affect the electric currents which move about the earth.

The workmen in the great salt mine on Avery's Island, Louisiana, have recently uncovered a heap of bones which apparently belong to a remote period and are possibly relics of a long forgotten mastodon. They are about to be sent to the Smithsonian Institution, where their character and value will be determined.

An experiment on the resonance of flames was recently made by Mr. H. Maxwell before the Experimental Science Association, Dublin. A vibrating tuning-fork when held in a gas or candle flame, or in the heated current of air above either, was shown its note greatly strengthened. A current of unignited gas produced no perceptible strengthening of the note.

Mr. Hayden, of Washington, is the inventor of an apparatus for burning petroleum as fuel, which is claimed to be the only one in the world that will perform the work for which it is constructed. Some years ago a woman, Miss Amanda Jones, invented an apparatus for burning petroleum under steam boilers which has been continuously and successfully used in the oil regions.

A Montreal firm has invented and patented a machine for cooking by electricity. It consists of saucepan insulated by non-conductors that the bottom forms the positive pole of the current. The negative pole is attached to a movable point which travels in circles over the bottom of the pan underneath, distributing the heat over the whole surface and with sufficient rapidity to avoid burning a hole through the pan at any one point.

ERNST'S SUIT FOR LIBEL.

He Claims $30,000 Damages from the "Evening Post."

A. L. Rockwell, an attorney for George Ernst of Nevada, filed a complaint yesterday, says the San Francisco Chronicle of Tuesday, against the Post Publishing Company, in which Judge Evans is asked to award the plaintiff $30,000 damages for defamation of character. The plaintiff represented Nye county in the tenth session of the Nevada Legislature, at which was introduced a certain bill called the "Schooling bill," which provided for the selection, grading, and segregation from the public domain of certain land donated by Congress to the State of Nevada for school purposes and providing, also, penalties for trespassing on them after selection and segregation. The bill was passed, the plaintiff voting against it. In November, 1882, however, Ernst was a candidate for Surveyor-General on the Democratic ticket at a general election in Nevada, and on the 31st of October, 1882, the Post published an article headed "How Nevada's School Fund Lost $1,000,000," which article charged that he sacrificed public interests for personal considerations and violated his oath in voting against the "Schooling bill," because, being interested in a lumber venture and having trespassed upon certain lands, he sought its defeat, as its passage would put an end to his depredations. The plaintiff asks for $30,000 damages for his political defeat and his malicious exposure to public contempt and obloquy.

The Text Books.

The text book case, entitled, State of Nevada ex rel. John R. Newnam vs. the State Board of Education, was argued before the Supreme Court Tuesday. The Carson Appeal says A. C. Ellis, attorney for relator, represented the interests of the Appleton readers, and the Attorney General the respondents. The proceeding is an application for mandamus to compel the State Board of Education to cause to be used Appleton's series of readers and to discard the Sheldon readers now in use in the public schools of this State. The proceeding is based upon the alleged fact that Sheldon's readers were discarded by the Board and Appleton's readers prescribed as text books at a meeting of the Board held December 1, 1879. It is claimed that the action of the Board was rescinded at a meeting held on the 3rd of December, 1879, and the question presented for decision, among others, is as to whether the action of the State Board of Education in reconsidering and rescinding its action of December 1st is legal. The relator claims the Board had no such right, and the respondent claims that it had. If the relator prevails Appleton's readers will hereafter be used in the public schools.

Jimmy Jr. Joins the Gang.

A raid was made by the San Francisco police, last Thursday night, on a dice game and among the victims captured, was a young man who gave his name as John Quizz alias James G. Fair, Jr. At the city prison the bail for the prisoner was fixed at $40, which could not be furnished by James G. Jr. He resorted to stratagem, and cooked his hat on his left ear, smoothed his gloves, and twirling his cane, he stepped up to the gatekeeper and said, "let me out please," but the officer wouldn't have it unless $40 was put up. Jimmy said he did not have forty cents, and wanted tick, but it was no go, and the Comstock's put boy was obliged to stay behind the bars until morning. The San Francisco Chronicle reporter makes the above statement, and it must be so.

Unpaid Licenses.

The Virginia Chronicle says that there are upwards of 200 firms, commencing the greater part of the business men on the Comstock, who have failed to pay their licenses in advance as required by law. Suits are about to be commenced against the delinquents, the amounts varying from $8 to $31 and aggregating several thousands of dollars. It was formerly the custom to send an officer around to collect them, but the County Commissioners lessened the force in the Sheriff's office and now there is no one to do the collecting. The merchants expected the officer to come to them, but they will now find that they were mistaken.

Methodist Conferences.

The following is the schedule of the Fall Conferences of the Methodist-Episcopal Church for 1893:

California—At San Francisco, September 19th.
Southern California—Los Angeles, September 5th.

Nevada—Truckee, September 26th.
Bishop Warren will preside at each of these conferences.

It is not likely that many changes of ministers will take place in Nevada. Most of the preachers will remain where they now are.

Heavy Fall of Snow.

Grantsville, according to the Bonanza, had the heaviest snow fall of the year last week.

The Livingston Brothers Beaten.

Judge Edwards, the Carson Appeal says, Tuesday, filed a decision in the case of Livingston vs. The State of Nevada. In 1875, the State borrowed $500,000 of the Livingston Bros. The bonds were to run eight years and one month at 9 1/2 per cent., and the State passed a law allowing the Commissioners to redeem the bonds before they were due, so that the State could realize 4 1/2 per cent. on the money invested. The interest was computed at 9 1/2 per cent. and added to the face of the bond, and the whole amount discounted at 4 1/2 per cent. The bonds were then surrendered to the State and cancelled, and the Livingstons received for the money. When one of the Livingston brothers came back from Germany he brought with him a new method of computing interest, called the Hamburg method, in reality compound interest, which the law of Nevada forbids. The Livingstons then sued for $18,000 and interest, amounting in all to $24,600. The Court gave judgment for defendant, and taxed the plaintiff with the costs.

A Pioneer's Impression.

The Salt Lake Tribune says: A. Evans, of Reno, Nevada, left yesterday for home, after having spent a day or two in looking over the city, and noting the wonderful changes which have taken place since he was here thirty years ago. On July 5, 1853, Mr. Evans reached this city with the first drove of cattle taken into Nevada, and camped for several days on the plaza, at the upper end of Main street. Two days after his arrival the corner stone of the Mormon Temple was laid by Brigham Young, and work on that structure has been going on each year ever since—a work that would have been easily performed in one-tenth that time in the hands of a lively American contractor. Mr. Evans was charmed with this city as it is now, and remembers a few of the land marks, which are unchanged, but these are few. From here he went to Nevada, and was the pioneer cattle man of that State, where he amassed wealth in the business. He is now a resident of Reno.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly

The June number has the usual abundant supply of charming, interesting and instructive reading, fully justifying its claim to be among the best, as it is the cheapest, magazine in existence. O. W. Riggs has a fine article, "The Port of New York"; N. Robinson, one descriptive of "St. Paul's Cathedral"; A. S. Southworth contributes "Guatemala"; Noel Ruthven, "Ancient and Primitive Kitchens." An article on "Sponges" is particularly interesting and instructive. The above are profusely illustrated. There are several illustrated stories, sketches, etc., and a continuation of the serial, "The Beautiful Countess of Clairville." Some admirable poems, paragraphs, anecdotes, etc., are scattered throughout this remarkable publication, together with handsome embellishments, and a colored frontispiece, "The Unwilling Model." A single copy is 25 cents only; $3 a year, sent postpaid. Address, Mrs. Frank Leslie, Publisher, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

There are Sixteen.

An item is passing the rounds of the papers to the effect that "Nevada publishes fourteen daily papers," and the JOURNAL inadvertently fell into the same error. The fact is that there are sixteen daily papers published in this State, as will be seen by the following list: In Reno, the Gazette and Journal; in Carson, the Index, Appeal and Tribune; in Virginia City, the Chronicle, Enterprise and Footlight; in Winnemucca, the Silver State; in Elko, the Independent; in Tuscarora, the News and Times-Review; in Eureka, the Leader and Sentinel; in Austin, the Democrat and Reveille. Count them up and see for yourselves.

TO THE CITIZENS OF RENO.

I HAVE BEEN A RESIDENT OF YOUR town for three years, and outside of my own business have not seen a decent pair of boots that were made here. In order, therefore, to extend to everyone facilities for obtaining really first-class boots and shoes, I have sent to San Francisco for two No. 1 mechanics, the best to be found in the country, and shall run (as heretofore) a prime first-class shop. This enlargement of my stock and facilities will entail heavy extra expense, and I look and trust, therefore, to Reno's citizens, and all the people generally desirous of obtaining the very best of workmanship, to aid me with their increased patronage. First-class material, first-class workmen and first-class work, at living rates, is the motto of my coat of arms inscribed on the banner floating from my castle walls. Respectfully,
